

multi room audio

Imagine being able to listen to your favourite music whilst relaxing in the bath, that is the essence of a good multi room audio system. You can access a variety of music sources at anytime, from anywhere in the home.

A multi room audio system should also offer elegance, simplicity and superb hi fi sound. ISEC Solutions can seamlessly integrate such a system into your home whilst still realising these objectives.

technology

Using the latest speaker and network technologies, a fully integrated audio distribution system can be discreetly installed which will exceed the expectations of even the most discerning customers. Audio is distributed in each room using discreet in-ceiling or wall speakers, which can be over painted to match your decor. All systems consist of the highest quality components and offer an array of solutions for customers wishing to access audio from anywhere in the home, including wet areas such as bathrooms and kitchens.

user friendly

By utilising the latest networking technology, users have the flexibility to listen to separate music in each room. with the option to access various local sources within the house. For instance you could listen to your favourite album in the lounge from music stored on the sound server, whilst the kids play music in their room from an iPod plugged into a local source input. Intuitive control of volume, track and source are offered at the touch of a button through a remote control or an optional LCD touch screen wall station, which has all of these features and also displays the album cover.

helping build homes of the future

multi room audio

